Intelligent Design for the Everyday™

We design and make furniture and organization systems. Our products look good, are highly functional, and are easily customized and configured to your requirements. We laser-cut, curve and fold hi-strength alloys into fluid, seamless, precisely manufactured products.

World-Class Spirit. Committed to Local.

We have created these products for our time. Our ideas and designs come from everywhere. Our products are manufactured locally wherever in the world they are sold.

There Are No Shortcuts To Excellence. The HS Process:

From idea to sketch to computer to prototyping to refining and prototyping again: every detail is considered, so that your experience of our products is always seamless and pleasurable.

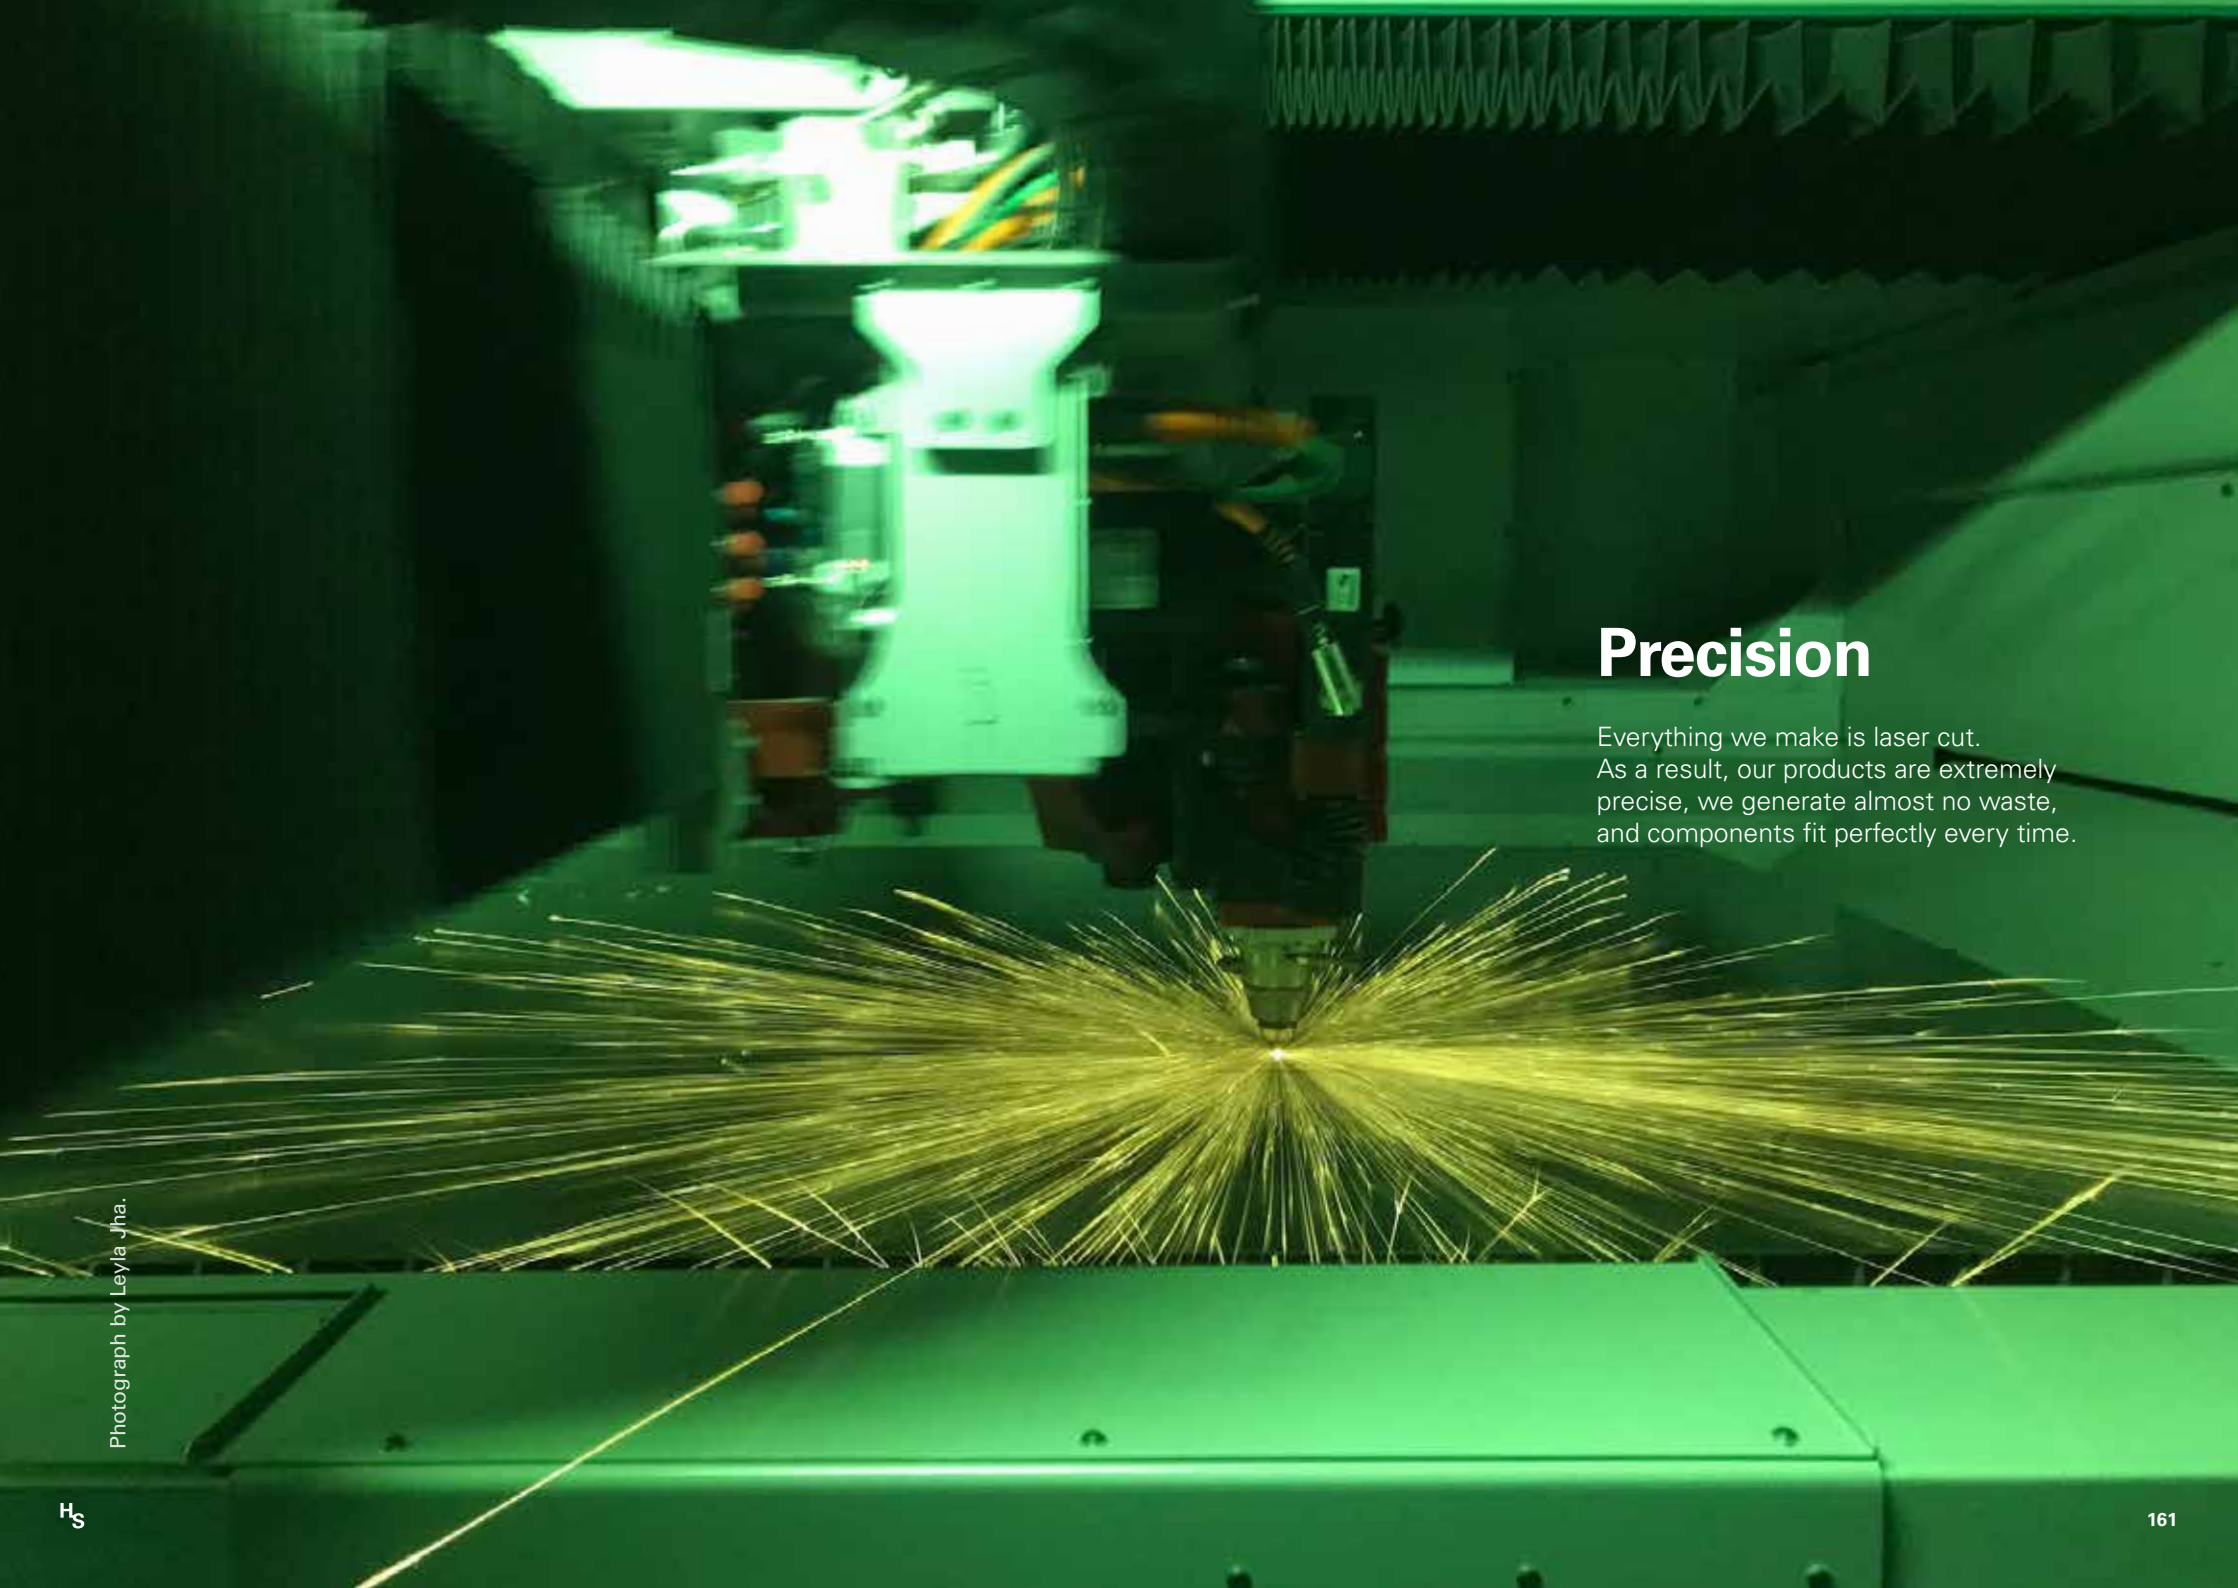

HS

High-tech for the Real World.

We use appropriate technology to keep quality and accuracy high, waste minimal, and costs low.

Precision

Everything we make is laser cut. As a result, our products are extremely precise, we generate almost no waste, and components fit perfectly every time.

Finest Quality

Strength and stability through intelligent design and engineering.

Refinement

No detail is too small to consider. Fractions of a millimeter translate into just the right fit. Dimensions, weight, ergonomics—everything is put to the test.

Clean Life Cycle

Easily recyclable materials, local on-demand manufacturing, efficient engineering, responsible production practices and low waste: we use a range of methods and technologies to make every step in the life cycle of our products as clean as possible.

Do More With Less

Within their clean lines, HS products are full of integrated functional features. They have a small footprint, but are incredibly strong and long-lasting. Better stuff means less stuff.

HS Makes Bigger Spaces

Smarter design means greater efficiency, which in turn means more usable space.

HS products are visually light. With our products, spaces feel large, light and peaceful.

A photograph of a balcony with a white stool and a railing overlooking a dense forest. The railing is made of dark metal posts and horizontal wooden slats. The floor is a light-colored concrete or stone. The background is a lush green forest with many trees and foliage.

HS on Sustainability: Better Stuff = Less Stuff

It is our belief that assuming responsibility for what we bring into the world assures best practices. Sustainability can never be a footnote. At HS, it is at the core of how we think, how we work, how we make.

We use only the finest materials to make products that can last forever. They can be refinished and refreshed whenever you'd like.

To ensure your installation looks and feels good for years [not weeks], we don't follow trends. We design original, timeless products.

Products made with mixed materials can only go into landfills. We use no mixed materials.

HS products disassemble completely as easily as they assemble, in seconds. So they are fully recyclable with very little effort.

We feel it is a more sustainable practice to buy fewer, better products. Our products are guaranteed for life.

Beautiful and highly functional

At HS, we believe that the beauty of a product comes from how it's made, what it's made of, what it does and how well it works. Cool to the touch, smooth, easy to clean.

Space-saving smart investment

Space utilization is 10-13% more efficient with modular HS system-based products. Use the extra space for greater revenue generation, or reduce built footprint and capital investment.

Responsible

HS makes the cleanest, most responsible line of products of their kind anywhere in the world.

Modular and customizable

Products across the entire HS Collection are designed to work well together. Our approach tailors products to your specific requirements. In any color. At no extra cost.

Assembles fast, lasts forever

HS products interlock within minutes, so you're up and running in hours, not weeks. Rather than replacements, consider a refresh or change of color. Think long-term. Invest once and done. Guaranteed for life.
